As CPAF celebrates 40 years of engaging the Asian and Pacific Islander (Asian/PI) community to end domestic and sexual violence through culturally-grounded crisis intervention and violence prevention, let's reflect on our roots and how the organization has grown to become what it is today.

CPAF's KEY MILESTONES

THEN

1978
First multilingual 24-hour hotline in U.S. tailored for Asian/PI survivors of domestic and sexual violence
*Available in 6 languages

1981
First multilingual and multicultural DV emergency shelter to specialize in serving Asian/PI survivors
*25 beds for survivors

NOW

2019
CPAF's 40 staff and 150 volunteers respond to more than 4,000 crisis calls annually on its 24-hour hotline
*Available in 30 Asian/PI languages

2019
CPAF's emergency shelter offers comprehensive social services and resources, counseling and healing activities
*45 beds for survivors

1998
First DV transitional shelter for Asian/PI survivors
*Supports 7 families annually

2019
CPAF operates two transitional housing facilities
*Supports 13 families annually

THEN

2000
CPAF's Prevention Program expands to youth in the community.

2019
CPAF reaches 300 youth annually, training youth leaders to challenge norms that perpetuate violence and to build healthy communities.
